

Mr. Funk's English Class - Grading Rubric

bfunk@sachem.edu

<http://mrbfunk.wordpress.com>

Writing 40pts

(10pts per writing piece)

Reading 20pts

(4pts. per 100 pages read w/ 1 page reaction)

Notebook 20pts

(2pts. for every 3 pages written. 30 pages = 20pts.)

Assignments ...10pts

(average of various assignments given during quarter)

Participation10pts

(determined by student and teacher)

Quarter grades are out of 100 points. All students begin with 0 points and earn points according to the following guidelines.**

Writing Pieces (40pts): polished, typed pieces of writing included in your quarterly portfolio. Pieces should be revised and nearly free of errors.

Reading (20pts): You Must Choose a Book You Have Never Read Before! Books For Other Classes Do Not Count! For every 100 pages you read, write a 1 page reaction in your notebook. You will receive 4pts. for every 1 page reaction/100 pages read. (These pages count towards notebook). Things to consider for notebook reactions: Author's use of skills/literary devices, your reactions/observations, connections to your life/the world, important quotes/passages. SUMMARIES WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED! I want to know your thoughts, not a simple summary that can easily be Googled.

Notebook (20pts): graded on number of pages written. Students earn 2pts. for every 3 pages written (thus 30 pages = 20pts.) Students who write more than 30 pages earn additional credit. The only writing that is ineligible for credit is any work done for another class.

Assignments (10pts): various assignments will be given throughout the quarter and graded on a scale of 0-2. This grade will be an average of those grades.

Participation (10pts): consider contributions to class discussion, promptness to class, attentiveness in class. Having a cell phone visible, latenesses, sleeping, disruptive behavior will affect this grade negatively.

No work will be accepted late, without a written note from a parent/guardian detailing a legitimate excuse other than computer issues. You will have the opportunity to revise an assignment anytime during the quarter**